"To promote the welfare of the officers of the Police Department.

To promote "Esprit de Corps" among the members of the department.

To provide financial assistance to all Police Officers under specified conditions.

To promote better relationships between Police Officers and the general public."

Early in 1948 a small group of the officers decided that there was need among the members of the Department for an organization based on the purposes listed above. These men visited other cities with similar associations in order to embody the best of each of the others in San Bernardino's Association. After many meetings and considerable discussion a constitution and by-laws were written and adopted. The first officers of the association were Captain Melvin Harbauer, President; Traffic Officer Robert Van Der Linda, Vice-President; Captain Vernon Shiflett, Secretary-Treasurer; Captain Vernie McBride, Director at Large; Traffic Officer Claude Moseley, Director from Traffic; Detective Lester White, Director from Plain Clothes and Detective J. Ed Tappan, Director from Patrol. These men guided the progress of the new association during the first years of its existence and laid the foundation for an organization that has continued to increase its status in the community and to render real service to the members of the Police Department.

The Association pays a death benefit to widows and orphans of men who die, or are killed during the time they are active members of the Association. Financial aid is often advanced to members who have suffered unusual reverses. Many items of Police equipment, all of which the men must furnish for themselves, have been purchased by the Association and resold to the members on small, easy payments. This one factor alone has caused our Department to be known as one of the best equipped in the state. A fund has been established into which each member pays a small amount each month. From that fund is made a contribution in the name of all members to the fund raising drives of the community. This has enabled all members of the Department to participate in community activities without having to take an unusually large amount from any one pay check. Further evidence of the interest shown by our members in community affairs is the participation in the Little League program of the city, the sponsorship of a Cub Pack and the Big City-Wide Christmas Party at which the Officers acted as hosts to nearly 3000 children.

Though San Bernardino was one of the last Southern California cities of its size to form a Police Benefit Association, it's continually gaining prestige, not only in this community but in Police circles throughout the state.

"THE INLAND EMPIRE"

POLICE DEPARTMENTS

From the early history of our country, we learn that the far-sighted planners in colonial times laid the ground work for the highly efficient Police System in existence today. As early as 1634, Constables were elected or appointed in most of the principle cities of New England. These hardy pioneers, in planning for the protection of the citizenry, were required to serve in many capacities. In many instances the Constable was also jailer, justice of the peace, revenue collector, and sealer of weights and measures. Most of the time he was employed at his own trade and performed police duties as a sideline.

In 1838, Boston took what was probably the first recorded forward step in establishing a full-time salaried police department. The movement spread and gained popularity and by 1853, many cities had well organized departments. Badges and uniforms were being adopted and worn lending stature and status to this growing profession. It was in this same year that Mormon settlers on Rancho de San Bernardino selected "Bud" Rollins as San Bernardino's first policeman. In 1868 the city was incorporated and Stewart Wall was elected to serve as the first city marshal.

In 1905 changes were brought about in the city government and H. M. Barton was elected San Bernardino's first Mayor. He appointed Walter A. Shay, who had been serving as Marshal, the city's first Chief of Police. Chief Shay and eight officers comprised the entire department. Today there are 136 sworn law enforcement personnel and 11 civilian employees.

Statement for Annual Police Report - 1954

All during the year we have received favorable comment in regard to the excellent performance of our Police Department. It is a pleasant experience when we receive complimentary letters and vocal expressions from citizens of the City commending the courteous, efficient, and prompt service of our police officers.

The interest expressed by the personnel in the department in its endeavor to improve the morale and to exert a definite influence in building the character of boys in our city, is indeed worthy of praise. They have, upon their own initiative, sponsored and supported a baseball team in the Little Baseball League, an entrant in the Soap Box Derby and also a Boy Scout troop. They have been very active in instructing the youth in the fine technique of fishing. Without assistance from the city, and upon their own initiative and at their personal expense, they have promoted and carried to a successful conclusion a Christmas party for over 3000 children, furnishing a very fine program and a Christmas greeting for each child. This was no small task.

They have given of their time most generously to demonstrate to the public their ability, which is the result of their firearm training. They have attended schools in order to better improve their knowledge of criminology, and their efficiency in the type of work which they are called upon to perform.

I wish to congratulate all the members of this department for their loyal devotion to duty, and for the efforts which they have expended in order to establish themselves in the confidence of the general public.

Responsibility for the protection of a city rests entirely upon the shoulders of its Police Department. The chapter of 1953, which has been written into history of the Police Department of the City of San Bernardino, is one of which every citizen may well be proud.

With our ever increasing population and the resultant need for more police protection, our police force has rendered a brilliant accounting to the people of San Bernardino. Statistics will bear out the praiseworthy manner in which the personnel of the Department have carried out the duties and obligations of their chosen field of work.

Therefore, the Common Council of the City of San Bernardino is proud to take this opportunity to extend to the entire Police Department its sincere congratulations upon its record of better law enforcement in this community.

Made 3,317 other investigations (non-criminal).

Made 3,080 other criminal investigations.

To you, the citizens of San Bernardino, the members of your Police Department present the following information concerning the operations and functions of the department personnel while on and off duty.

With the rapid expansion in population, homes, businesses and vehicles, so the problems of law enforcement have also correspondingly increased. I am very proud to state that the officers of your department have kept abreast of this increase in a manner which is highly commendable, and that through the continuing support of all citizens of our city, we, in law enforcement, will keep the peace and maintain law and order to the very best of our ability. We promise to conduct a program of crime prevention so that our city will be a better place in which to live and raise our children.

We, the members of your Police Department, solicit your continued support and cooperation.

THE PATROL OFFICER

The uniformed Patrol Officer, either on foot or motorized, is the symbol of law enforcement and the backbone of the Police Department. Every hour of every day in the year, these officers patrol and protect the people and property of our City. The primary job of the Patrol Officer is the repression and prevention of crime. To accomplish this, he acts as the eyes and the arm of the Police Department, constantly observing and acting upon conditions in the field.

THE PATROL OFFICER

Before he can start to work the patrolman must be completely outfitted. Since he must have at least two complete uniforms in case of accident and to be able to pass daily inspection, he spends $420.00 without working a day. This money comes from his own pocket. Many times he must borrow it or use funds previously earmarked for normal family expenses.

THE POLICE CAR

Most Police Cars are painted a distinctive black and white. They are equipped with sirens, red lights, first aid kits, three way radio, and other items that help give the residents of the city better protection. The distinctive equipment and coloring keeps the public informed as to the patrol service that is being given.

THE POLICE CAR

The Police Car is utilized by all Police Divisions. The Black and White Car is most generally used by the Traffic and Patrol Divisions. It is equipped with three way radio. Each Motorized Patrol unit remains in contact with the Central Radio Dispatcher, at the Hall of Justice, during its entire watch.

These mobile units are usually the first at crime scenes, providing prompt action so vital to the control of crime.

It is a constant source of amazement to most citizens to learn of the diversity of situations that are referred to a Police Department. Family arguments, neighborhood feuds, prowlers, burglars, thieves, drunks and vagrants are all taken in stride by the patrolman who is nearly always first on the scene when help is sought by any resident of the community. His ready response and willingness to help coupled with a level head and mature, considered judgment are important in a smoothly operating, well protected community.

JAIL DIVISION

KALTENBORN, HOWARD C.

"Prisoners are People" is the title of a widely read book by Kenyon Scudder, Superintendent, California Institution for Men at Chino. In it he points out that a man is still human in spite of transgressions. The Jail Division of this department tries to point up that thinking by providing the comforts that they have available. A keen eye is kept on sanitation. Well balanced meals are provided and opportunity is provided each man for exercise and personal cleanliness.

THE TRAFFIC OFFICER

The uniformed Traffic Officer performs an investigation of each accident, making reports indicating locations and the type of offenses which caused the accident. These reports provide information needed by the Traffic Division in its continued effort to eliminate traffic fatalities.

Traffic Officers are constantly alert in the apprehension of those that violate the laws which protect the life, limb and property of other motorists. The majority of citations are issued for offenses that cause the greatest number of accidents.

THE TRAFFIC OFFICER

In order to qualify for assignment in the Traffic Bureau a patrolman must have at least one year of service with the Department. The assignment change means a further expenditure of $310.00 since he must have two complete uniforms of a different color and material from that worn by patrolmen.

THE MOTORCYCLE

Motorcycles are too small to carry the extensive equipment carried by the cars. They all have three-way radio, red lights, sirens and a special box for citation books, tape measure, first aid supplies, flares and miscellaneous articles for accident investigation. They are all painted the distinctive black and white which announces their presence to the public.

THE MOTORCYCLE

The motorcycle provides continuous and selective action so vital to traffic safety. These highly mobile units are deployed to: Locations of traffic accidents, Congested traffic areas, Scenes of emergencies. Each motorcycle is equipped with a transmitting and receiving radio. Each officer is in constant contact with Central Radio Dispatcher at the Hall of Justice during his entire watch.

TRAFFIC DIVISION

It takes a lot more than constant patrol and the writing of citations to keep accidents to a minimum. A constant survey is kept of the needs of the community. Hazardous intersections — increased traffic on certain streets—growing trees and shrubs—new schools and churches all present new problems in safeguarding life and limb. Engineering and study go on all the time to protect the people of the city.

THE PLAINCLOTHES OFFICER

The plainclothes officer maintains at all times a full uniform. In addition he must buy a new, shorter gun that will not be conspicuous. He probably owns more suits than the average working man since he must wear one on the job at all times.

His investigations lead him into all sorts of places and situations that snag and soil his clothing. Costly repairs and cleaning bills are large items in his budget.

DETECTIVE DIVISION

Many highly confidential investigations are accredited by the men in plain clothes. Much of the information received in any department lacks foundation in fact. It must be kept secret until it is carefully checked to protect all parties concerned. All crimes reported must be followed up to try to apprehend the person responsible for the offense. These matters are better investigated by men who are rendered less conspicuous in regular street clothing than in uniform.

RECORDS and IDENTIFICATION DIVISION

A latent print left at the crime scene—a plaster mold of a tire or foot print—pictures of accidents and other Police activities—the serial number on a piece of stolen property—the criminal record of an applicant for public employment are all in the day's work for the staff of the Division of Records and Identification. Whether it is to be used by officers in an investigation or for a prosecution in court, it must be handled carefully and efficiently. For this purpose the elaborate system has been set up and pays its way in service to the Department and the City.

JUVENILE DIVISION

Most everyone agrees that a youngster's judgment improves as he gets older. Therefore he must be given consideration when his immature judgment leads him into difficulty with the law. The Juvenile Bureau is on duty 24 hours every day in an effort to protect the youth of the community. Crimes against children as well as crimes committed by them are a part of the work done here. Counselling with parents in an effort to guide them on the proper supervision of their children is another service of the Bureau that has paid big dividends in delinquency prevention.

BUSINESS LICENSE DIVISION

While it is generally considered an agency for the purpose of collecting money from the merchants, the License Division also functions as a protection to those same merchants. They must be alert constantly to apprehend those persons who would come into the community and do business in competition to local business men without the payment of the proper fees. The men in this division enforce the City's ordinances and make sure that all concerned receive fair treatment but pay their fair share of the license fees in the community.

TRAINING and CIVIL DEFENSE DIVISION

LUCE, ALFRED L.

DIRECTOR CITY CIVIL DEFENSE.
COORDINATOR OF POLICE CIVIL DEFENSE.
CHIEF OF TRAINING.
CHIEF OF RESERVE POLICE TRAINING.

STUTEVILLE, THOMAS C.

The Training Division is the latest division to be added to our growing Police Department. It was inaugurated in order to provide the members of the Department with On-The-Job-Training through the use of the ROLL CALL TRAINING system. Whereby each officer receives a mimeographed copy of each lesson when he reports for roll call. Since its inception the division has increased its scope and now provides training in many related police procedures. To name but a few, Firearms, Detectors of Atomic Radiations, Bomb Identification and Disposal, Biological Warfare, and many others. The division is also responsible for organizing and training the 260 men and women of the Police Reserve and as an additional job is directing the Civil Defense organization of the City.

FIREARMS TRAINING

In keeping with the policy that all police personnel be skilled in the use of their guns and equipment, all officers of the department have completed a fire-arms training course covering the use of the hand-gun, riot-gun, and the proper use of tear gas, grenades and projectiles, under the direction of ballistics instructors of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This course required three hours a day for five days and was conducted at the Perris Hill pistol range. The Perris Hill pistol range is owned by the City of San Bernardino and maintained by the Police Department under the supervision of firearms training instructor, T. C. Stuteville.
